SECTION 0

Welcome to TuneMatch

TuneMatch is a marketplace that matches students with independent piano teachers for recurring online lessons. This guide walks you through everything you need — applying, setting up your profile, receiving bookings, and getting paid.

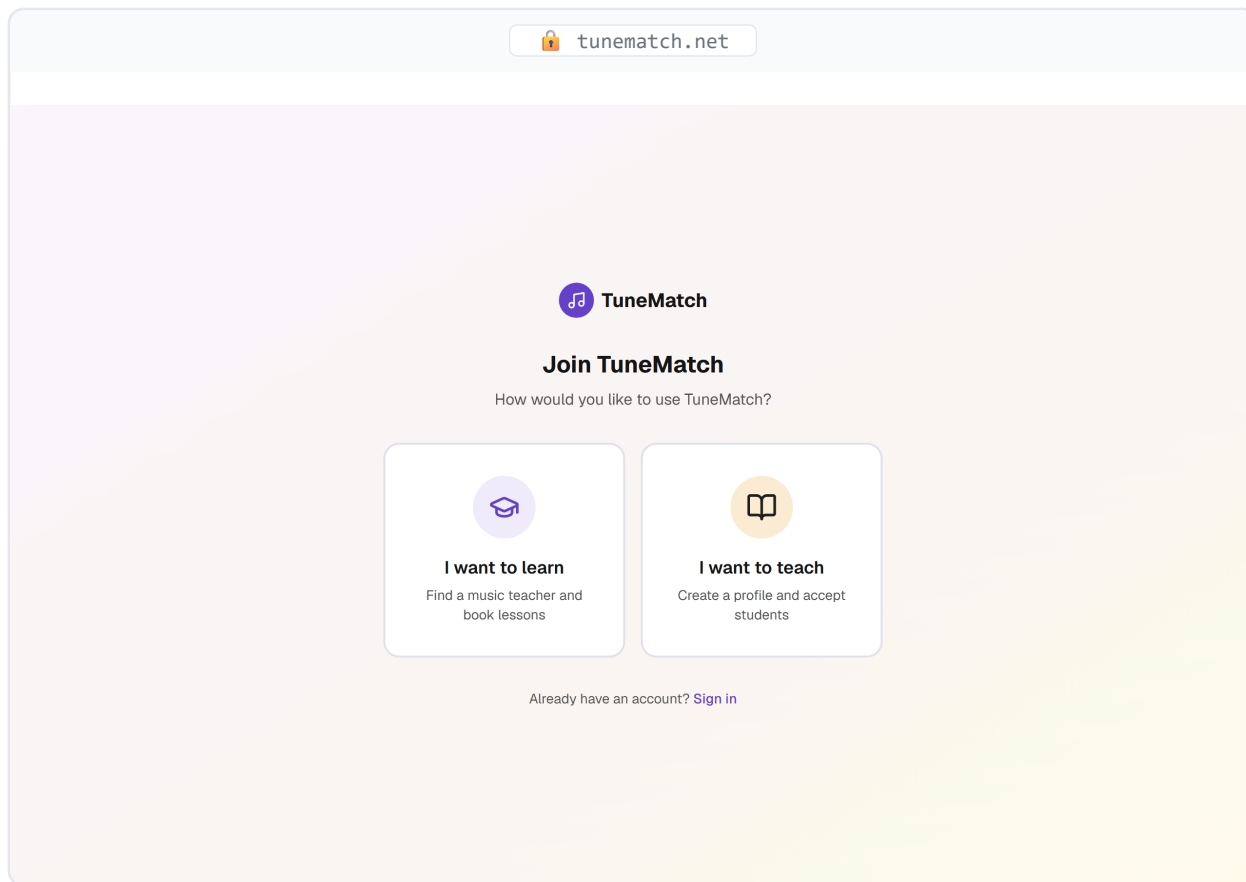

In this guide, you'll learn how to:

- Apply to teach and get approved
- Build a profile that attracts students
- Set your availability and prices
- Manage bookings and no-shows
- Get paid — Stripe Connect, Wise, or manual bank transfer

SECTION 0

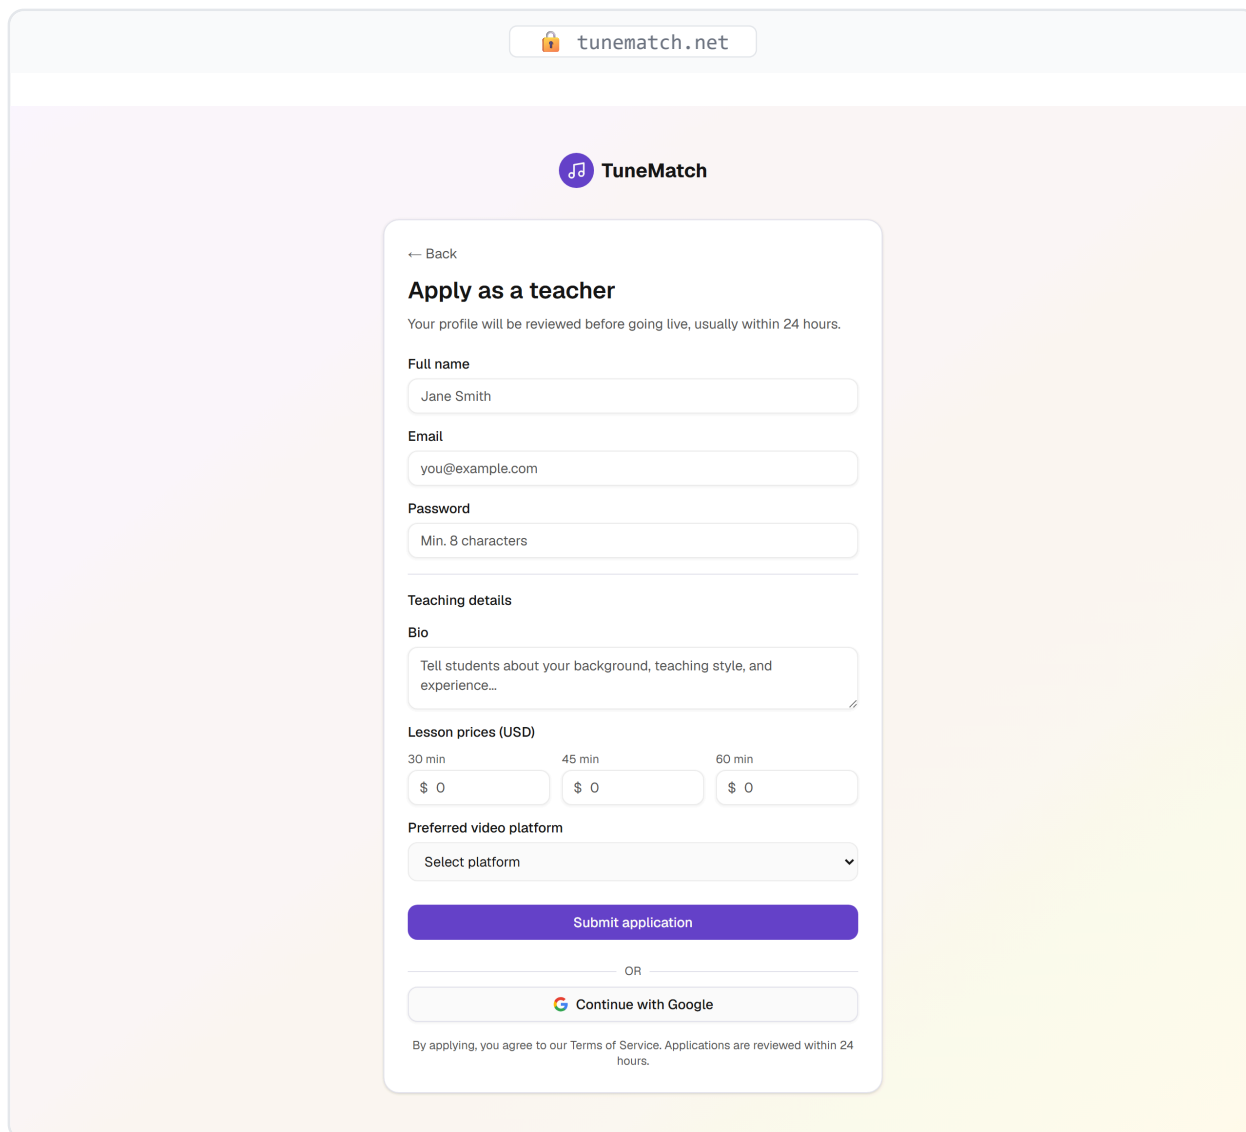

Applying to teach

Go to tunematch.net/register and choose I want to teach.

Register — choose your role

Fill in your details plus a short teaching bio (50+ characters), your preferred video platform, and at least one lesson-length price (30 / 45 / 60 min).

The screenshot shows a web browser window with the URL `tunematch.net`. The page features the TuneMatch logo at the top. Below the logo, there is a "← Back" link and a heading "Apply as a teacher". A subtext states: "Your profile will be reviewed before going live, usually within 24 hours." The form includes several input fields: "Full name" (containing "Jane Smith"), "Email" (containing "you@example.com"), and "Password" (with a placeholder "Min. 8 characters"). Under the "Teaching details" section, there is a "Bio" field with the placeholder text "Tell students about your background, teaching style, and experience...". Below this, the "Lesson prices (USD)" section has three input fields for "30 min", "45 min", and "60 min", each with a "$ 0" placeholder. A "Preferred video platform" dropdown menu is set to "Select platform". At the bottom of the form, there is a purple "Submit application" button, an "OR" separator, and a "Continue with Google" button. A small disclaimer at the very bottom reads: "By applying, you agree to our Terms of Service. Applications are reviewed within 24 hours."

Teacher application form

Applications are reviewed personally, usually within 24 hours. You'll receive an email as soon as your profile is live.

i Info

Alpha stage — TutorMatch (tutoring vertical) — If you signed up on the TutorMatch subdomain (`tutors.safescreensinitiative.org`), review is manual and may take a few days. Same platform under the hood; the review bar is higher.

SECTION 0

Setting up your profile

Once approved, your profile appears in the public teachers list. Students see:

I really enjoyed my first piano lesson. My teacher teaches at a good pace, explains things clearly, encourages me a lot, and motivates me to keep learning. He made me feel comfortable and excited to play piano. It was a great first experience, and I am looking forward to continuing. Highly recommended!

SECTION 0

Availability and pricing

Availability

Set the days and time windows when you're open for lessons. Students only see slots that fall within your availability, aren't already booked, and are far enough in the future to be bookable.

Screenshot placeholder

Availability panel — weekly grid with time-window editor

Times are shown to each student in their local timezone. Availability is stored in your timezone (set on your teacher record).

Pricing

Per lesson-length, in USD.

Screenshot placeholder

Pricing panel — 30 / 45 / 60 min rates

Revenue share

- US teachers: 90 / 10 split. TuneMatch keeps 10% for platform + payment processing.
- Non-US teachers: 85 / 15 split. The extra covers cross-border payment costs.
- Bookings via your personal share link: 95 / 5 split. Direct-from-teacher bookings carry no student platform fee, and TuneMatch takes only 5%.

SECTION 0

Getting bookings

Students book you three ways:

1. Public search — they browse `/teachers` and click into your profile.
2. Your share link — send prospective students the direct link to your profile (`/teacher/YOUR_ID?ref=direct`). They get the no-student-fee price.
3. Trial — some students test the fit with a single trial lesson before subscribing.

Every booking creates a Stripe subscription (for recurring) or a one-off charge (for a trial). You get an email confirmation immediately.

Bookings list — see every upcoming and past lesson in one place:

Screenshot placeholder

Teacher bookings view — students, dates, join links

Each row shows the student, date/time (in your timezone), status, and — for a lesson in the next 30 minutes — a Join Lesson button.

SECTION 0

Running your lessons

Video platform — TuneMatch sends the meeting link in the confirmation email to both you and the student. Some teachers set a persistent meeting URL in their profile; others create a fresh link per lesson.

Reminders — the platform sends both you and the student a reminder about one hour before the lesson.

No-shows and lateness

- If a student is more than 15 min late without notice, mark the lesson as no-show from the bookings view. TuneMatch reviews these to prevent repeat abuse.
- If you need to cancel a lesson, do it as far in advance as possible. Last-minute teacher cancellations refund the student in full.

 Note

Recording — TuneMatch doesn't record lessons. If you and the student agree to record, use your video platform's recording feature (Zoom, Meet, etc.) and share the file directly.

SECTION 0

Payouts and taxes

Depending on how your account is configured, TuneMatch pays you one of three ways:

Stripe Connect (default for most US teachers)

Payments split at the moment of charge — your share lands in your connected Stripe account automatically, based on your payout schedule with Stripe (usually 2 business days).

Wise (default for many non-US teachers)

The full charge stays in the TuneMatch balance; your share accrues under Teacher Balance. TuneMatch pushes payouts to your Wise account on a monthly cycle (or on-demand for larger balances).

Manual bank transfer

Same as Wise — your share accrues, paid by bank transfer on request. Slower but sometimes necessary for regions Wise doesn't cover.

Warning

Taxes — TuneMatch does not withhold taxes. You're responsible for reporting your teaching income. For US teachers, Stripe issues a 1099 for tax years where your earnings exceed the reporting threshold.

SECTION 0

Frequently asked questions

How fast is approval?

Music vertical: usually under 24 hours. Tutor vertical: 2-4 days (higher bar during alpha).

Can I set different prices for different students?

Not per-student, no. Prices are per lesson length. But you can offer promo pricing via your share link.

Can I block specific dates (holidays, sick days)?

Yes — remove the slot from availability. Students already booked into those slots need to be manually notified.

How does refund policy work when the student cancels?

Auto-refunded if cancelled >24 hours out. Later cancellations aren't refunded — you keep your share of that lesson.

Can I remove a difficult student?

Yes. Cancel their subscription from your bookings view; they can find another teacher.

Do I need my own Zoom Pro account?

Depends on lesson length. Free Zoom accounts limit calls to 40 min — fine for 30 min lessons, cuts off 45/60 min. Google Meet is unlimited on a free Google account for 1-on-1.

When do reviews go live?

Immediately after the lesson is marked completed. You can respond to reviews from your dashboard.

SECTION 0

Support

- Email: info@tunematch.net
- Payout questions: email support with your teacher ID and the affected month.
- Approval questions: if you don't hear back within the expected window, email support with your application email.

Response time is usually under one business day.

TuneMatch is a marketplace connecting piano students with independent teachers. Payments processed by Stripe. Cross-border payouts through Wise where applicable. Lessons happen on third-party video platforms chosen by each teacher.
